Chamber of Commerce Hails Proposed Plan

The Arlington Chamber of Commerce hailed the announcement of the board of Selectmen and town manager concerning the creation of a department of planning and community development for Arlington.

Ronald Nigro, president of the Chamber, informed this paper that the board of directors strongly supports town officials in the creation and development of a sound planning system for the town.

Mr. Nigro cited as problems for all citizens the facts that no real commercial development has taken place in Arlington for many years, that the creation of shopping centers in bordering communities take away Arlington's spending dollars which ultimately leads to a lower tax base for the town.

The Chamber created a study committee several years ago headed by Father Thomas M. Kershaw and Atty. Richard Keshian. This committee studied many aspects of community redevelopment in cities and towns surrounding Arlington and concluded that if Arlington is to survive as a

"We will leave no stone unturned." These were the words of Chairman of the Board of Selectmen John Bilefer Monday night in a meeting with petitioners of the Meadowbrook area.

The petitioners, some 40 in number appeared before the Board of Selectmen in opposition to the use of the Meadowbrook area for sanitary land fill.

They were but a few of the 587 who signed the petition presented to the Board in opposition.

After a long period of discussion on the matter, Bilefer told those present that the Town Officials would be very happy if this group of residents or any group could come up with a solution to the sanitary land fill problem which faces the town.

"We'd be happy if we didn't have to go into Meadowbrook," Bilefer stated.

Prior to the start of the 8 p.m. meeting which lasted until just after 10 p.m., Bilefer briefly outlined the refuse disposal problem which faces Arlington.

He explained that the present area on Summer st. which is now used as a sanitary fill area could be used for only two more months.

He went on to state that negotiations are now underway with an abutter in the same section to use another parcel of land. This would add another 8-9 months to the time the town has to operate the sanitary fill operation.

Bilefer further added that he had been told by the Town Manager that negotiations with Somerville are now going on to truck trash to Somerville; this would be burned in the Somerville incinerator.

To Build Wall
It was then explained that bulky objects would have to be disposed of elsewhere—the only alternative being Meadowbrook or Magnolia.

Residents were also informed that according to a State Board of Health ruling all other existing sites would have to be used before the town could utilize the Magnolia st. area as a sanitary land fill site.

Representative Edw. "Ned" Dever explained why he felt the use of the Meadowbrook would be unsuitable for sanitary land fill use.

He noted the odor problem that had existed in the Lower Mystic Lake area two or three years ago. He added that although this problem no long-

The Age of Over-Committee?

The only way anything can be accomplished in a community is for someone to take action.

And to take action a committee must be formed. Committees put together the facts and come up with a conclusion.

Some of the great achievements accomplished by the town of Arlington, no doubt, have come about as the result of the formation of committees.

But we get to the point when we "over-committee". And we may be just in this position as the 1969 Town Meeting nears.

Just take a look at what we suggest for passage in the Warrant which was closed last week.

Appointment of a committee to be known as The Executive Office Review Committee.

Appointment of a Middle Belt Study Committee.

Appointment of a Drug Action Committee.

Appointment of a Teenage Youth Committee.

Appointment of a Bi-centennial Planning Committee.

Appointment of a Permanent Town Building Committee.

Appointment of a School Survey Committee of 12.

Appointment of a Committee for an addition to the Parmenter school.

Appointment of a Committee for an addition to the Peirce school.

Appointment of a Committee—Meadowbrook pkwy.

Appointment of a Committee to Study Creation of a Charter Committee.

Maybe one or two many have been missed along the check-point, but at a quick glance, Town Meeting, to appoint at least eleven new groups to study something in the town.

Under Article 3 of the Annual Warrant is the statement "Reports of Committees."

We've forgotten how many such reports are listed.

But this writer can remember that year in and year out there have been committees that have little or nothing to report. Committees which for one reason or another have either completed their jobs, or lapsed into obscurity because of lack of members or for reasons unknown to this writer.

This year we propose to add almost a dozen more committees to this list.

Looking over the list, it seems that there certainly are some necessary appointments for the good of the town, but

All that is asked is that before Town Meeting members go into session they know what these committees hope to do and be as certain in their minds as possible that in two years such committees won't be just names listed under Article 3 of the 1971 Town Warrant.

Action committees, committees in name only—no.

COLLINS CORNER

For those who may have wondered about the picture of Arlington Center last week, allow the writer to say it was on Mass. ave. looking up from Medford st. to Mystic, and if you say you don't remember the buildings, be very happy, you're not that old. And for those who inquired about the Carens Grocery store, may it be mentioned that he was the dad of George and Tom who for so many years were writing for Boston papers.

These two boys lived with their parents and sister on Lewis ave. and attended our Arlington schools. In fact Tom was the Class Prophet at his graduation in the Old Town Hall, and hoped someone would eventually give him a job in some newspaper.

Well they did, and he went to work as a secretary to Robert Lincoln O'Brien the Editor of the Boston Herald, and eventually went up to the State House as the Political reporter, and later spent 14 years in Washington writing for the same paper.

He was a brilliant writer and speaker, and had a first name friendship with Presidents, Senators, Congressmen and Governors, as well as a close relationship for the man in the street.

His stories about politics and politicians were gems, and three of his favorite people were Senator George Moses of New Hampshire, Al Smith and Calvin Coolidge.

He travelled the entire country in 1928 with both Smith and Hoover, and came back to Arlington predicting a big win for Hoover. He was just as accurate a prognosticator as Jim Farley when he predicted in one election that Roosevelt would Both were very correct, but in Massachusetts voters were reluctant to believe Smith would lose, and this state was one of the few that Hoover did not carry.

One of Tom's disappointments was the missing of the swearing in of Vice President Coolidge by his father the night President Harding died.

Word had come through that the President was very ill, and Tom and a reporter from another paper went to Plymouth, Vt. where the Vice President was on vacation. For three days they waited, and then came news Harding was improving so back to Arlington he came to find our President had passed away. So back he went, then, on to Washington with the new President, although always wishing he had remained another day. He had some wonderful stories about Coolidge, who by the way always called him Thomas, and that was an honor, for he rarely called reporters by their first names.

During the three days at Plymouth he and the other newsmen, and Mr. Coolidge would sit on the veranda and just rock, and very few words were spoken.

On the third day a farmer driving two oxen drove up and stopped, and the driver said 'Hello Calvin'. 'Hello, said Mr. Coolidge, calling the man by name. How are you Calvin? 'Fine' said the Vice President, 'How are you?' Fine said the farmer and drove off. The two reporters waited quite a bit, and both dying for some news asked Mr. Coolidge if the man was a native and if he knew him long. 'He's a first cousin of mine—haven't seen him for about 20 years,' said Mr. Coolidge. So Tom was a witness to a very warm family reunion.

CHARGED WITH BREAK

Two local youngsters 13 and 14 years have been charged with a break on Paul Revere rd.

To the Editor:

I'm very interested in the outcome of the March election as are numerous others. I have some one hundred and four special friends, all of whom are firefighters. For years they have been working forty-eight hours a week, which to some doesn't sound like much. This job, contrary to public opinion, is a very demanding one.

Daily schedules have the day shift punching in at 8 a.m. and being relieved at 6 p.m. The day shift does numerous things, among others, daily drills to keep the men in top knowledge of the latest firefighting techniques. At night, the routine changes, the men talk about the new methods learned and are constantly familiarizing themselves with the equipment on the apparatus. This town can really and truly be proud of its firemen.

The forty-two hour work week which the men are striving to attain will enable Arlington to improve the firefighting capabilities. Arlington has been fortunate enough in past years not to have had any real bad fires. Although a few were close calls and had disastrous possibilities, the fast and efficient work by our men have prevented any holocausts.

Although unintentional damage is done, the property losses are minimal. I call upon all of Arlington's citizens to take this matter close to their hearts. I ask the voters to support them at the polls election day. I think it is appropriate to say that "the life they save, may be yours."

This slogan will be appearing throughout the town. This slogan is true, as newspaper reports will indicate. They will do almost anything to prevent the loss of life. They truly need your support please help them.

The "and my interest is that my father is one of these courageous, well-trained men."

Thank you for your support.

Middle Class Morality

Repeatedly, in recent months, we have been coming across the phrase, "middle class morality." Each time we see it in print it is like a wet mop in the face. The hippies head for a Haight-Ashbury in San Francisco to rid themselves of it; movie reviewers find enlightenment in movies which portray persons trying to escape it; even book reviewers are given to hailing authors who create depraved demons who deplore their middle class morality upbringing and violate whatever they fancy middle class morality to be.

It has come to be a standard phrase in the terminology of the literary license takers who defend any behavior as being simply a protest against middle class morality. At least two national magazines of recent date have devoted space and photographs to young people who represent to be busily engaged in purging themselves of this middle class morality malady, in order to be useful spokesmen for and cohorts of the unorthodox and unclean of our time.

There must be about 150 million people in this land who came out of middle class morality and that is three out of every four living and breathing Americans.

The code did not differ greatly from one part of the country to another, nor from one religion or color to another. In essence it has been: work a full day for a day's wage, save for a rainy day, fear God, defend the Flag, help the sick and the poor, preserve the family, and do unto others as you'd like them to do unto you.

It was never a complicated code, and it was inbred, in every American community. It wasn't imported from any land; it wasn't carried here by an national or religious group. It was part of the beginning and the growth of America. Each incoming group had to prove itself, to be sure. And it took a little time. But the once-hated Irish did it; the Jews did it; the Chinese did it; the Negroes did it. They didn't do it as a group, or a race; they did it as individual Americans who liked the code and adopted it as a way of life and then stood proud as a peer of every other American who earnestly endeavored to pay his own way and held his God and his Country higher than himself.

Middle class morality doesn't tolerate either malingerers or maligners.

Middle class morality isn't a sickness of our society; it is the spine of it.

That Man About Town

The number of Warrant articles is even higher than what the "Boss" listed in his story of last week.

Remember though, when he wrote his story last week he was just taking a calculated estimate.

After going through this Warrant to end all Warrants, MAT has come to two conclusions.

"The residents are restless."

"Arlington must think seriously about the matter in which it makes decisions of such nature as are enumerated in the Town Warrant."

That the residents are restless is quite evident because of the number of articles in the Warrant and the variety of articles listed in the same Warrant.

That some thought must be given to changing the format of Town Meeting seems at least a bit evident because of the large number of articles, and the suggestion that as the result of the residents getting restless this number could increase in the very near future.

Whether this means holding more than one Town Meeting a year on a regular basis, or cutting down the number of Town Meeting members and holding several Town Meetings a year MAT's not sure.

But is the answer 240 or more residents grappling through some 100 or more articles over a four, five or six night span.

Last year with less than 90 articles, Town Meeting dragged on and on.

The previous year, more than 50 articles were quickly voted on without enough discussion in one quick session.

The town could be the loser under the present system—either yes-yes-yes all the way down the line without enough discussion—or long drawn out discussions which in too many cases lead to confusion and uncertainty in making decisions.

There has to be a happy solution somewhere for the good of all the taxpayers.

And switching to sports the "Boss" says for those who don't know what to watch now

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

PEACE AND THE DEFENSE STOCKS

Wellesley Hills, Mass., January 30—With de-escalation of the Vietnam conflagration possible in 1969, what lies in store for the defense oriented companies? Since the Paris peace talks began there has been very little momentum, on either the upside or the downside, for the stocks of these companies. What can the aerospace industry (chief defense suppliers), and particularly its shareholders, expect from many cessation of hostilities?

FISCAL 1970 BUDGET SHOWS STABILIZATION EFFECTS

The defense budget, as proposed by President Johnson just before he left office, shifted from a defensive Vietnam posture to a strategic emphasis. Sizeable expenditures for new missiles, planes, and ships were requested, as well as large outlays for research. The Babson's Reports staff feels this is the clue to the future for defense companies.

Defense spending should continue high for some time after the war's end because of the need for inventory replenishment. Also, maintenance of a high level of post-Vietnam spending for the funding of certain deferred or stretched-out programs (due to the more pressing war needs) should militate against any notable reduction in defense business.

SPECIFIC SYSTEMS ACCELERATED

In fiscal 1970 the Pentagon proposes to almost double funds for the controversial "Sentinel" antiballistic missile system from $960 million to $1.8 billion. Major participants in this program will be Raytheon, General Electric, McDonnell-Douglas, Martin Marietta, Sperry Rand, Burroughs, Hercules, and Thiokol. The intercontinental missile programs will receive substantial increases for the advanced versions of the "Minuteman" missile (the II and III versions) and the "Poseidon" submarine-launched missile. Boeing is the prime contractor on the former and Lockheed on the latter.

In addition, the new Navy fighter (F-14) to replace the canceled F-111-B, will require outlays of almost $500 million (for two versions). Grumman Aircraft was recently selected for the F-14A model. An Air Force model, the F-15 supersonic fighter slated for operation in the mid-1970's, will constitute a sizable award for one of the three companies (Fairchild Hiller, McDonnell-Douglas, and North American Rockwell) now hotly competing for production contracts. Of great significance is the fact that the research authorizations are expected to be almost as large as the production funds. Finally, a $2.4-billion ship-building program (almost twice as great as the average of the last five years) is also prospected. This includes such multi-diversified companies as Litton Industries.

THE AEROSPACE INDUSTRY'S ROLE

Sales for the aerospace industry were around a record $30.1 billion for 1968, slightly better than the $29.2 billion estimated to be spent for Vietnam in the fiscal 1969 year ending June 30. Because only about 10% of the aerospace industry's sales is geared to the Vietnam war effort, the staff of Babson's Reports feels that the impact on the defense companies would not be as severe as many investors imagine. Moreover, these firms have been building systems readily adaptable in time of peace to extensive programs in transportation, pollution control, ocean exploration, medical systems and public health.

AEROSPACE INVESTMENT VEHICLES

BOEING COMPANY. As the leading producer of commercial aircraft, the company derives over half its sales and the bulk of its profits from this sector. Thus, it is less vulnerable than most defense contractors. But it is prime contractor for the Minuteman missile programs and has an important role in other missile and space projects.

NORTH AMERICAN ROCKWELL. Through mergers, this giant contractor has become one of the most diversified companies in the business. Management expects the corporation to benefit rather than suffer from termination of the Vietnam war. Like Boeing, North American Rockwell has a sizable and growing commercial product mix and looks forward to generating significant earning power over the longer range.

that football has gone the way of all seasons, Joe Donovano, formerly of Arlington, now of Billerica is the reigning champ of Candlepin Bowling, Saturday noon on Channel 5.

Your PHARMACIST SPEAKS

Harold R. Partamian, B.S., Registered Pharmacist

More people go to see a doctor because of pain than for any other reason, and they are right to do so. Pain is an important warning signal. Few diseases develop without pain at some stage. Whenever a pain is so severe, lasts so long, or is so unusual as to arouse alarm, a physician should be consulted. People vary greatly in their reaction to pain. Some suffer inordinately with pains that others disregard. Certain conditions of the mind may be accompanied by the illusion of physical pain. But it is a great mistake to attribute "premonitory" signs to someone's pain, or to imagine that someone's pain is imaginary.

There are many aids to ease pain. Fill your prescriptions at RAWSON PHARMACY, 201 Broadway. Free prescription pickup and delivery. Telephone 648-1991. Cosmetics by Revlon, Max Factor, Chanel, Yardley, and Coty. Fine Candies.

er exists, it is not completely solved.

Dever called the Lower Mystic problem a "unique one" under study for the past two years.

Lower Mystic is made up of two big pits, and the pollution from the Mill Brook, etc. plus the influx of salt from the ocean causes the odor to take place, the Representative went on to note.

He stated that the present solution is to drop pumps and pump into the sewer line.

He added that now there are some four or five feet of clean water on top of the lake; but if this should be lost there would be a terrible situation.

The general impression presented throughout the discussion was that if trash of any kind was to be dumped in the area, it would somehow filter into the Mystic Lake area, possibly causing an odor or pollution of some sort.

Bilafer here noted that there is an article inserted in the Town Warrant to build a type of wall to protect the Mystic Lake area.

Five Year Use

A resident of the area, Richard Goulart, of Glen ave. spokesman for the residents, stated that the group objected to the loss of a good skating area; allowing the area to become blighted and the major objection that the area be used as a dump.

They were also disturbed because there are few natural sites left in the town.

The residents' goals were to work with the Selectmen in an attempt to solve the situation, restore skating, await results of town meeting action, investigate the possibility of shipping out rubbish, check into the possibility of the use of an incinerator.

Town Manager Donald R. Marquis told those present that a consulting firm is making a study of the matter and that a report should be ready within three weeks.

Residents were clearly surprised when Marquis stated that if the Meadowbrook area was used only to dump bulky material, the sector might be utilized for a five year period. Residents then mentioned that when the area had been used as a dump previously, there was a problem with rats. The Town Manager stated that bait traps are now used. The material used, warfarin, according to Marquis, is harmless to humans, dogs and birds.

Selectmen Horace Homer at this point mentioned that the Selectmen had a large file of correspondence with the MDC in an attempt to clean up the area and put the skating program back into operation.

HEAR "UNCLE" BILL

House Bill 457 filed by Rep. Gregory Khachadorian of Arlington will be heard Tuesday, Feb. 4, at 11 a.m. at Room 423 in the State House.

The bill calls for Arlington, the birthplace of Uncle Sam to be noted on the State's registration plates.

vice community over the next 20 years immediate attention to increasing the tax base must be at the forefront of any action.

"The problem," Kershaw stated, "is one where the real estate tax shall continue to increase just to provide the basic necessities to citizens. Unless some source of revenue is uncovered, Arlington will be priced out of existence. It is not enough to state that this is a problem that all communities face because many communities are taking action to alleviate the tax burden on the home owner."

"The sound and sensible way to approach this problem, according to Keshian, is to follow through on the proposal as presented in last week's issue. A department of planning with a proper staff and budget is just the first step towards community development."

Keshian further indicated that Arlington has paid for many plans and studies which have not been fully implemented because of a lack of follow through ability. A central full-time department under the firm control of the town manager could provide this void in planning.

Rev. Kershaw indicated that the Chamber brought many groups together several months ago to present the problem and to seek joint action to bring about a sound solution and create reality. He stated that any town funds expended for staffing this department would be realized many times over by skillful administration, realistic land use regulations, close coordination among town departments and modern land taxing policies.

The Chamber urged town-wide support for the board of selectmen and the town manager.

the number of officers had been narrowed to a half dozen.

Chief Lucarelli noted that McKenna had been on the force since Aug. 27, 1967 and had taken a six week course at the Police Academy in Somerville.

He added that the selection of the officer was a good one.

McKenna was originally assigned to a night foot patrol, but quickly was advanced to a patrol car which is a rapid advance.

Lucarelli also went on to say that several officers including McKenna had received departmental commendations during the past year for their achievements.

McKenna's achievement was based on his part in the capture of two men charged with assault and armed robbery on a bank manager last summer.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

By JOHN A. WALKINSHAW

Victory vs. defeat. Victory is not always commendable. And surely, defeat need not be disgraceful.

In human experience, there are levels in both victory and defeat. For example, when we see a bewildered man defeated because he lacked the courage to win, we pity his pathetic picture. But, when we see a courageous man going down to defeat after trying his best to win, we glory in him in defeat. At times it can even be a tragic defeat. This is especially true if a principle of justice, integrity, fair play or personal honor is involved.

None of us can win every time. How we lose is often more important than how we win. To succumb or be subdued because we lack the courage for the struggle to win is the only time disgrace can be linked to defeat. Actually, it is possible to win when one loses. JOHN A. The appearance of Tony Saletan, above, well-known folk singer, sponsored by Cadette Girl Scout Troop No. 10 of Junior High West, will be held Feb. 2 at Arlington High school, Lowe Auditorium at 2:30 p.m.

Tony Saletan is a familiar figure to the educational TV audience in this area; and his folk concerts have brought him to many schools and college campuses in New England.

Girl Scouts of Junior Troop No. 12, Stratton school, have selected for their troop crest the Indian sign meaning "permanent camp". The Scouts are all embroidering their own crests, to be worn on their Girl Scout uniform sashes.

This project is being directed by Troop Leader Mrs. F. C. Torresyap with the assistance of Mrs. W. Barry, Mrs. Robert Groom, Mrs. Ingalls, Mrs. David Spero and Mrs. Alexander Wilson.

Plans are being formulated for Arlington Girl Scouts' celebration of Girl Scout Week—March 9-15.

Leading Role

Stephen Hannaford has won the leading role in the Kenyon College Dramatic Club's production of William Shakespeare's famous English history play, "Henry IV." Hannaford, a junior, will portray Falstaff, Shakespeare's most perfect comic characterization.

Performances of "Henry

IV" are scheduled for Feb. 6, 7, 8 and 9 at 8 p.m. Hannaford will play the title role, also, in "Falstaff," the second play in the stage history of England's most popular king.

After "Falstaff"—the second part of Henry IV cycle—is staged in April, "Henry IV" will be revived and played in repertory with "Falstaff."

The newcomer to the Kenyon stage, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon J. Hannaford, 19 Nicod st., has also played Claudius in "Hamlet" and Capulet in "Romeo and Juliet."

Although the Dramatic Club has produced over half of Shakespeare's plays, it has never attempted two Shakespeare plays in one season, nor has it produced plays in repertory prior to this year, the 120th season of theater at Kenyon College.

Hannaford is an honors major in the Department of Drama.

The meeting, to which all Arlington residents are invited, will be a question-and-answer session, at which subjects to be discussed will include the Commission's Warrant articles, the economics of conservation in Arlington, pollution, Meadowbrook Park and other matters.

The doors of the complaint service department at Boston's new City Hall are open 24 hours a day, and it is staffed around the clock to aid residents.

On WCAS

Mrs. Faith Wyse of the Young Adults' Department of the Robbins Library of Arlington will discuss "We Bombed in New Haven" by Joseph Heller when she speaks Feb. 3 on "Robbins Library News and Reviews," a radio series being broadcast about 11:20 each Monday morning through the courtesy of Radio Station WCAS in Cambridge.

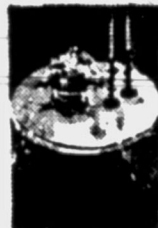

Most playwrights expect of their audiences a suspension of disbelief while the story they have to tell unfolds. Joseph Heller, however, in his extraordinary play, "We Bombed in New Haven," introduces characters who from time to time try to make the audience think that what they are seeing is not real. This unusual technique points up the tragedy of watching on television, as some do, pictures of a real war as if they were scenes from an imagined story.

The public is cordially invited to listen every Monday morning at the same time to "Robbins Library News and Reviews." WCAS may be found at 740 on radio dials.

Guided tours of Boston's new City Hall are now available.

New Switchboard

Arlington Town Hall will have a new switchboard in operation next Monday.

The new board has been "on the way" for three years and installation has been underway for six months.

Town Manager Donald R. Marquis estimates that the new board will save the operator 40-50 per cent on her work.

The operator previously handled all incoming calls, all outgoing calls and all inter-departmental calls.

Under the new system, she will only be receiving incoming calls and transfer calls.

VOICE OPPOSITION

Selectmen Monday night voiced their opposition to a 20 per cent increase in the rate of the 5th Representative District which includes precincts 1-2-3 and 5 of Arlington which would provide for an investigation and study by the M.D.C. relative to the advisability and feasibility of changing and relocating Alewife Brook from its present open stream course to an underground course.

Selectman Arthur Saul stated that he was not in favor of the underground because of the expense involved.

"We must stop spending money somewhere," Saul said.

Candidate

John W. Bullock of 196 Jason st. has announced his candidacy for the office of Selectman in the March 1st election. A successful businessman, Mr. Bullock served as a Selectman for three years from 1962 until 1965.

A lifelong resident of Arlington, Mr. Bullock has served the town in several different capacities. In addition to being both a member and Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, Mr. Bullock was also elected to several terms as a Town Meeting Member in Precinct 5. Last April, he was re-elected a permanent member of the Arlington Democratic Town Committee.

During his three years on the Board of Selectmen, Mr. Bullock introduced several important proposals for the development of new sources of tax revenue. Among these, was the development of an apartment complex within the former Town Yard. He also helped lead the fight for underground buses at the Harvard Square terminal.

In announcing his candidacy, Mr. Bullock revealed: "Because of skyrocketing taxes, Arlington is faced with a financial emergency of alarming proportions. Many Arlington homeowners, particularly those who are living on fixed incomes, are now faced with the question of whether or not they can afford to live in Arlington. If they sell their homes, inevitably those homes will be filled with youngsters who will create a need for new schools.

The financial situation is further complicated by other factors such as the non-existence of land from which to develop new sources of real estate tax revenue."

"There are no simple short range answers to our problems," Bullock continued. "We must now begin to take effective action on a broad front. We need to develop new sources of revenue by redeveloping the commercial centers of our town. We need to be more vigorous in our pursuit of both state and federal monies which are available for local community projects. We need to schedule our major capital expenditures more conservatively and in pace with our development of new tax resources. And we must press our case in both the state and national legislatures so that some of our financial burdens can be assumed by other areas of government. It just doesn't make sense for Massachusetts to have the highest real estate taxes in the nation."

"Taxes, by the way, are not our only problem," Mr. Bullock observed. "We also must take a look at the quality of life in Arlington. Our young people as well as our elderly have social and recreational needs that are not being met. With respect to these problems, I believe that the Board of Selectmen should act as a catalyst in getting more of our townspeople involved in the solution of our town's problems. We have over 200 different clubs and organizations in Arlington. But we need to make them more aware of the tremendous amount of good that they can bring to our community through a common effort."

An Arlington homeowner and taxpayer, Mr. Bullock was educated in the Arlington Public Schools. He is a graduate of the New England Institute. He is a member of Arlington Council 109, Knights of Columbus and the St. Agnes Holy Name Society. He is 39 years old. He and his wife (the former Jacqueline LaRue) are the parents of four children.

Maximum Care and Nursing Course at Symmes

In conjunction with the imminent opening of a maximum care unit at Symmes, a thorough course in coronary care nursing will be given with special emphasis on the nursing role in monitoring, pacing, and defibrillating coronary patients.

The course will start with basic anatomy and basic theories of EKG monitoring and carry through to the most modern bedside nursing techniques. Every nurse, R.N. and L.P.N., with a desire to keep up with the exciting advances in her (or his) profession, whether or not she plans to work in the near future, should partake in the course. There is no tuition.

There will be lectures and workshop sessions. The course will run from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. each Monday start Feb. 3 and extending for six consecutive Mondays.

Registration will be held from 6:30 to 7 p.m., Feb. 3, at the Symmes Hospital cafeteria. Several cardiologists and nurses on the hospital staff will work together to give this course.

The beautiful new ultra-modern maximum care unit is rapidly nearing completion. In addition to providing general maximum care, it will have the most modern monitoring, pacing and defibrillating equipment. A most unique design has been accomplished for giving patients maximum privacy and quiet while still permitting maximum care.

A serious need for additional nurses, both to work in the unit, and in the remainder of the hospital, has arisen because of the demands these additional beds will place on the nursing service. Any nurse interested in applying should call Miss Ruth M. Schaffer, Director of Nurses, at 646-1500, to arrange for a personal interview.

Chairman

William S. Abbott, 24 Kimball rd., has been appointed community chairman of the 1969 Heart Fund Campaign. Richard Marson, regional chairman of the Greater Boston Chapter, Mass. Heart Association, made the announcement today.

Abbott was born in Medford and has been a lifelong resident of Massachusetts, later moving from Woburn to Lexington. After graduating from Lexington High school, he continued his education at Harvard College where, in 1960, he received a degree magna cum laude in physical sciences.

While at Harvard, Abbott was a holder of the Navy R.O.T.C. Regular Scholarship and the Harvard Honorary National Scholarship. He was active in many undergraduate activities, including the tennis and squash teams, the Hasty Pudding Institute of 1770, and Phi Beta Kappa.

Upon graduation, Abbott was commissioned in the U. S. Navy, and embarked on a three-year tour of duty aboard the destroyer U.S.S. Barry (DD-933). Abbott received a special letter of commendation in connection with his ship's submarine detection achievements during the Cuban missile crisis.

In 1963, Abbott entered Harvard Law school, graduating magna cum laude in 1966. As an editor of the Law Review, he has written and edited several papers on various aspects of law. During three successive summers he practiced law at the Boston law firm of Ropes and Gray.

He is a member of the Massachusetts Bar, receiving the highest grade in June 1967. He also has participated extensively in local politics, and managed a campaign in Watertown that succeeded in electing nine out of 15 mem-

For Mothers' March

Mrs. Beatrice Rogers Mothers' March chairman in Arlington today said that although many of the volunteers have completed their assignments, she urged those who have not to do so by February 2.

The volunteers were also asked to return their kits to the ward or precinct leader, or the location so-named thereon when the calls have been completed.

The National Foundation—March of Dimes wishes to thank the volunteers, one and all, for the dedication shown and the energy expended in the 1969 March of Dimes Mothers' March, certainly a prime source of funds to carry on the vast research program against birth defects.

bers (including his own seat) despite a registration disadvantage of one to five.

In September 1967, Abbott completed a one-year assignment as White House Fellow and Special Assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman. During that period he actively helped coordinate, at the White House level, the handling of several domestic issues—including the Model Cities Program and aid to education.

Although he is presently associated with Cabot, Cabot, and Forbes, Abbott is continuing to serve as Special Assistant to the Secretary, and has also assumed the role of Regional Coordinator of the Agriculture Department's food and technical assistance and development programs in the Asian area. In connection with the later assignment, Abbott has travelled widely through Asia—including Turkey, Afghanistan, Pakistan, Nepal, India, and most recently (April 1968) to South Vietnam.

Abbott is married to the former Susan Ellen Shaw of Needham, and they have two children.

In announcing the appointment Marson commented that "This year's February Heart Fund goal is $750,000." The funds raised in the annual drive aid in the fight against congenital heart defects, hypertension, heart attacks, stroke, and related heart and blood vessel diseases.

Accepting the post Abbott said, "The volunteer recruitment drive is well underway. Many civic minded persons have already called our central phone operation headquarters at 267-6580 to volunteer. However, many more volunteers are needed if we are to achieve our increased goal of $125,000 over the 1968 figure in Greater Boston."

Arlington Catholic Wins "B" Title; Arlington High Edges Waltham 1-0

O'Leary Shatters High School Hoop Record

Captain Dave O'Leary's 35 points, his second highest total in a game this season, was the highlight of his teams win over Newton, 59-58. Dave had 15 field goals and five foul shots and was the game's high scorer.

Newton led at the end of the first period, 11-6, with the Red and Gray having a 25-20 edge at halftime. Arlington scored 19 points to nine for their opponents in that second quarter.

Newton had 21 points in the third period, the locals 17, and a one point lead going into the final period.

Both teams had a total of 17 in the last period. For Arlington it was O'Leary with 35, Carvello and Krikorian with nine each, Cuccio had four and Nigro two. Twenty-four field goals and 11 foul shots for 59 points.

Wargin, Dunn and Franks were in double figures for Newton.

Friday night, Brookline defeated Arlington here, 61-45, as they outscored the home team in the first three periods.

In the fourth quarter, the Red and Gray outscored Brookline 18-16.

O'Leary, with 28 points, was the game's high scorer and the only local player in double figures.

Polakoff, Saperstein and Crumb hit double figures for the visitors.

Dave O'Leary scored the 1,000th point of his high school basketball career. Last season he led the Suburban League in scoring with 361 points.

His highest single game point total, 44, came in the game with Rindge.

Andover Edges Arlington High

The Arlington High hockey team took on Andover Prep school at their rink last week and came out on the small end of the 3-2 score.

Tom Deveau's first period goal put Arlington ahead as goalie Joe Bertagna kept Andover from scoring in the opening frame. Billy Corkery, the high scorer for Coach Ed Burns had a pair of assists on the two Andover goals in the second period.

Harris had the first of the Prep school's tallies with Corkery and Clark getting assists. Clark had goal number two for the Andover team. Corkery and Harris the assists.

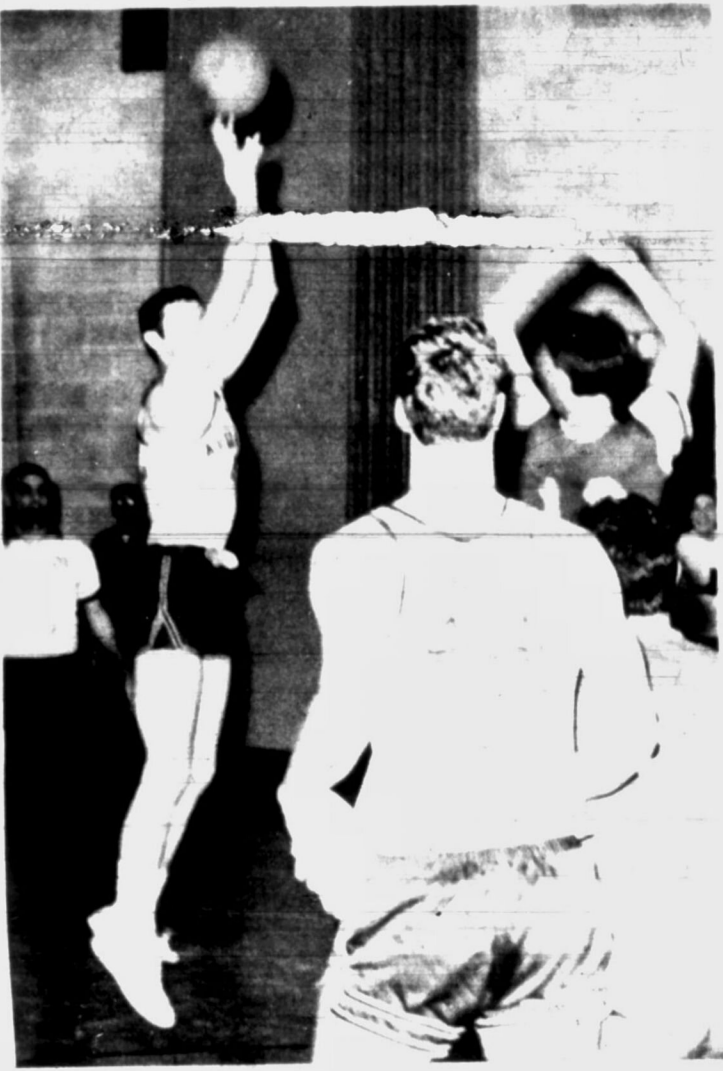

Jay Reiley and Thorton combined for the winning goal, after a goal by John Lyons late in the second period had tied up the game at two-all. Mike Zona and Tom Deveau had assists on Lyons' tally.

Coach Bob Carr's freshman club suffered its first loss of the season 3-1 to a much older Andover J.V. team who were just too big and too strong and had the home ice advantage.

Junior Varsity Edges Brookline

In the preliminary game Friday night the Arlington High J.V. basketball team edged Brookline, 44-43. It was a close game as neither team was ever more than four points ahead at any time.

Coach Tucker's team went out in front by a single point early in the last period and was able to maintain the one point edge for the win.

Bob Prince had 14, Buddy Leveroni 12 and John Novellis nine points, as the team won its third game of the season.

Don Bosco Beats Arlington Catholic

Coach Johnny Silk, the former Boston College great, and his Don Bosco team played one of its finest games of the season as it beat ACHS here Friday night, 84-76.

Both teams scored 17 points in the opening period. The hometown school had a four point edge at halftime as the scoreboard read 38-34. A 26-point scoring spree by Don Bosco while they held ACHS to 18 had the visitors starting the final period with a 12 point bulge.

With Jim Lyons and Carl Managanelli tossing in baskets from all over the court, ACHS narrowed the gap to eight points in the closing minutes of play.

Sophomore Jimmy Lyons, with 21 points, was the locals top scorer.

Managanelli was only a point short with 20 and Capt. Bill Lyons had 11.

Don Bosco had three boys with over 20 points. Yachinski had 29, Copeland 25 and Strong had 21. Grant, Pike, Conkian, Shack, Caputo and O'Brien were the other ACHS players.

An "Open House" for Boston youth will be held Wednesday, Feb. 12, from 2 to 5 p.m. at Boston's new City Hall as part of the building's official dedication week celebration.

Monday night at McHugh Forum Coach Jack Carney's hustling Arlington Catholic hockey team outplayed Xaverian High of Westwood for the Class "B" title. The "Cougars" won 3-1.

John Quanci, the local goalie, kept ACHS in the game in the opening period as both the first and second lines of the Westwood club kept the play in the Arlington end.

Quanci had at least a dozen saves, some of them on the sensational side. A hard shot by Jackie O'Brien, who was named the Xaverian M.V.P., at 5:05 had goal "written on it," but Quanci made a fine glove save to help keep the first period scoreless.

Dennis Villandry and the Coleman brothers, the ACHS first line, had a scoring chance in the opening minute of the second period on a three on one rush but the shot was just wide of the net. The second line of Paul Callahan, Clyde Brooks and Mike McGlynn relieved the starters who, returned to the ice after a minute's rest. At 3:15 Dennis Villandry's hard shot from about 10 feet out found the left hand corner of the net for the game's first score. Both Colemans had an assist on the score.

John Ready, the ACHS defenseman, was hurt at 8:15 of the second period and Paul Callahan went back on defense and Coach Carney sent Mike Curry in to center the second line.

Curry picked up a loose puck in center ice and went in on the Xaverian goalie and rifled a shot off the goalie's pads that alert Mike McGlynn banged home for a score, putting ACHS ahead 2-0. Quanci's bid for a shutout ended when Xaverian scored at 4:58 in the second period.

The final ACHS goal came in the last period at 6:53 on a rifle shot by John Coleman with Villandry and Scotty Coleman getting assists and giving ACHS a 3-1 lead. ACHS had one more scoring chance, when Xaverian pulled the goalie with less than a minute left. A long shot by an ACHS forward just did not have the legs to make the open cage.

Larry Babine played the best defensive game of his high school career, as well as playing center on faceoffs. Co-Capt. Phil McDougal did double duty at his defensive post from the second period on when Johnny Ready was injured.

John Coleman was voted the M.V.P. and received a trophy. Rev. Fr. Casey, athletic director of ACHS, was presented the Class "B" trophy by the tournament director.

The win gives ACHS an 8-1 season with three tourney wins and a 5-1 loss in Catholic League play.

According to the jury for the design competition for Boston's new City Hall, the structure meets in a practical, efficient and flexible way the daily uses of its various functions.

Co-Capt. Joe Bertagna posted his fourth shutout of the season Saturday as a hustling AHS hockey team edged Waltham 1-0, with Tony Lyons' second period goal the margin of victory.

At the five-minute mark of the first period, Legere of Waltham went off for high sticking. The Red and Gray had several scoring chances during the minute the Waltham center was in the penalty box but Yetter, the Waltham goalie, refused to be beaten.

The Watch City team played a man short at 7:20 but more great goal tending by Yetter kept the puck out of the rink. The win and Medford's loss to Brookline leaves Arlington and Medford tied 7-2 for second place with the Wealthy Towners, 8-1, at the top of the standings.

Formal dedication of Boston's $21.6 million new City Hall will take place on Feb. 10, 1969.

Boston's new City Hall contains an Emergency Command Center where 50 men can work, eat, and sleep with complete protection from fallout.

Arlington was unable to score. The second line of John Lyons, Mike Zona and Tom Deveau started the second period. Shortly after the two minute mark, the first line of Tony Lyons, Bernie Quinlan and Kent Davison relieved the junior line and before their turn on the ice was completed, Tony Lyons took the puck from a Waltham defenseman and poked it by Yetter for the only goal of the game. The score came at 4:11 of the second period.

Noonan, Flanagan and J. Lyons drew penalties in the third period but the Arlington forwards kept the puck at the Waltham end of the rink. The win and Medford's loss to Brookline leaves Arlington and Medford tied 7-2 for second place with the Wealthy Towners, 8-1, at the top of the standings.

Starters for Arlington: Bertagna, g; Brine and Burns on defense; with Tony Lyons, Quinlan and Davison up front. J. Lyons, Mike Zona and T. Deveau were the spare line; with P. Flanagan and M. Noonan on defense. Saturday, the Spy Ponders play Rindge Tech, which has yet to post a win this season.
